

Creata dal designer e architetto Enrico Franzolini nel 1997, Gilda si distingue per il grande paralume in tessuto, sospeso su un treppiede regolabile, ispirato agli strumenti dei fotografi professionisti. L'utilizzo di diversi materiali per il paralume corrisponde a svariate emozioni tattili, visive e luminose: dalla carta pergamena sintetica, in colore bianco o avorio, alla juta bianca, nera o naturale. Oggi Pallucco completa la collezione Gilda con una versione "Total Black", con treppiede disponibile in finitura nero opaco e paralume in juta nera.

Created by designer and architect Enrico Franzolini in 1997, Gilda stands out for its large fabric lampshade, suspended on an adjustable tripod and inspired by professional photographer's tools. Using different materials for the lampshade corresponds to several tactile, visual and bright emotions: from white or ivory synthetic parchment to white, black or natural jute. Today Pallucco completes the Gilda collection with an all-black version made of a matt black finish tripod and black jute lampshade.
