

BONALDO

Amond console

Designer: Gino Carollo

The Amond Console presents an elegant and balanced play of contrasts and references between the thickness of the top and the metal base, marked by the absence of full volumes and the original silhouette that resembles a diamond. Indeed, it is this very alternation of blocks and voids that makes the base appear to be suspended in mid-air, conveying a sense of lightness, the same features as the Amond table. The base is available in painted metal or with a burnished finish, to give further overall refinement. The top is proposed in a warm wooden version or in sophisticated variants in ceramic. Together with its balanced design, the geometrical lines and refined proportions make Amond a furnishing (as well as functional) element that is suitable to every living context.
